

Joel Moseley
General Manager
Carlyle Compressor

Joel Moseley has been with Carlyle Compressor since 2016 bringing a critical and balanced skillset to the compressor segment with over 30 years of progressive experience in the HVACR and Compression industry.

In his current role as General Manager, Joel supports New Product Development and leads Application Engineering, Technical Sales, and execution of strategic marketing, communications, sales operations, and strategy for Carlyle Compressor.

Joel holds a Bachelor of Science in Industrial Technology from Western Illinois University and a Master of Business Administration from University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

